PANSIES & VIOLAS

CARE & MAINTENANCE

Care

- These spring loving annuals come in a rainbow of delicious colors! Pansies and violas are our most frost tolerant annuals and are among the first plants to be set out in the spring.
- They will survive in temperatures as low as -15°F. The blossoms could get damaged at temperatures lower than 40°F or if heavy frost occurs, so the plants need to be protected under these conditions.
- Blooming slows down as the temperatures rise, so savor these annuals in early spring and replace them with warm weather annuals in the summer.
- Plant your pansies in full sun to part shade and rich, well-drained soil. For better blooms add a water-soluble fertilizer like Miracle-Gro (available at Wagners).
- Encourage longer blooming by deadheading (removing the spent blooms). Violas are the small-faced members of the family. They may be more compact, but they like to be treated the same as pansies.
- Both pansies and violas are perfect in containers. Wagners offers colorful, pre-potted bowls and ovals to beautify your patio, deck or front steps.
- Our pansies, violas, and other cool weather plant selections are marked with a snowflake icon.
